

THIS WEEK IN REELS

The 7 reels every realtor should see this week.

I scroll the AI and automation firehose so you don't have to. Here are the seven worth your time — each decoded into one thing you can use today.

WEEK OF JUNE 1, 2026

No fluff. No recipes. No drone unboxings. Just the AI, iPhone, and automation moves that move a real estate business.

1

AI

IPHONE AUTOMATION

Text Claude your tasks straight from your iPhone

Tiffany Kyazze

An iOS Shortcut that fires whenever you text yourself a message starting with /Claude — it opens Claude in the background, runs your request, and texts the answer back. AI in your pocket between showings, no app-switching.

Use it today: Build the Shortcut, then dictate "/Claude draft a follow-up to the Egret Cove buyers" from the car. Answer's waiting when you park.

CONTENT STRATEGY

The "Gap Finder" prompt: a 90-day content plan from one prompt

Mariah Brunner

A Claude prompt that analyzes up to 10 competitors and outputs both the proven topics you should copy and the gaps no one in your market is filling — the content you can own.

Use it today: Feed it 10 agents in your farm area. Build next quarter's reels and emails around the gaps it finds.

CLIENT CALLS

Granola: transcribe every client call — no bot in the meeting

Matt Paige

AI meeting notes that run in the background with no awkward bot joining the call. Your own notes merge into the AI summary, and

"recipes" generate talking points and catch-ups. ~10 hours a week back.

Use it today: Run it on your next buyer consult. Send the summary + next steps to the client within five minutes of hanging up.

PRODUCTIVITY

9 daily AI habits of people actually making money with it

Sabrina Ramonov

From a founder who sold her AI company at 30: default to AI before Google, give it feedback like a new hire, write SOPs, and wire it into the tools you already use. Discipline beats novelty.

Use it today: Pick the one habit you're skipping — probably "give it ongoing feedback" — and apply it to your next prompt.

BUSINESS OPS

Claude's Small Business plugin: 15 pre-built workflows

Justyn Berkovits

Anthropic shipped a Small Business plugin for Claude desktop with 15 ready-made agentic workflows for common business problems. Install once, skip building from scratch.

Use it today: Install it from the desktop app's plugins section and run the workflow closest to your follow-up or marketing bottleneck.

BETTER DECISIONS

The "LLM Council" prompt — stop AI from just agreeing with you

Mariah Brunner

Research shows Claude agrees with users far more than a human advisor would. This prompt forces five distinct advisor personas — Contrarian, First-Principles, Expansionist, Outsider, Executor — to critique each other before a Chairman synthesizes. Real pushback on big decisions.

Use it today: Run your next pricing or listing-strategy call through the Council before you commit.

AGENT SAFETY

IPHONE AUTOMATION

The stolen-phone automation every agent should have

Tiffany Kyazze

An iOS Shortcut triggered by a secret text from a trusted contact: it silently grabs front + back camera photos and your GPS location and sends them back — no flash, no sound. Built for people who meet strangers at empty houses.

Use it today: Set it up with your office manager or spouse as the trusted contact before your next open house.
