YOUR MONEY-MAKING MISSION

WHY YOU'RE HERE

Twenty-one months after the NAR settlement, the buyer-broker conversation is still where most agents fumble. Every fumbled objection is a lost buyer-side commission — averaging $9K–$25K per transaction in South Florida. This workbook converts the conversation into a system.

YOUR GOAL TODAY

Walk out with verbatim rebuttals to all 5 objections, the correct Florida Realtors form for every buyer scenario, and two completed live role-play reps. Your buyer-side conversion rate doubles.

SUCCESS METRIC

Within 30 days, sign buyer representation with at least 70% of first-appointment buyers using the verbatim scripts and form matrix in this workbook.

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

The 3 Revenue-Generating Systems You'll Master:

1. The 5-Objection Verbatim Rebuttal Stack

Word-for-word scripts to every buyer objection. Stop freezing. Start signing.

2. The 3-Form Florida Realtors Decision Matrix

Pre-Touring vs. Showing vs. Exclusive Buyer Brokerage — which form for which buyer.

3. The Double Role-Play Domination Drill

You run the full sequence twice. Coached. Locked in. Muscle memory before Monday.

THE REVENUE MATH

METRIC	BEFORE THIS SESSION	AFTER IMPLEMENTATION
First-appointment sign rate	~25–35%	70%+
Buyer-side commissions / quarter (avg)	2–3 deals	5–8 deals
Avg buyer-side commission (S. FL)	$9K–$25K	$9K–$25K
Quarterly revenue uplift potential	—	$27K – $125K

THIS WORKBOOK PAYS FOR ITSELF THE MOMENT YOU SIGN YOUR NEXT BUYER.

HOW TO USE THIS WORKBOOK

1. During the session: Fill in worksheets in real time. Don't spectate — write.
2. Within 24 hours: Re-read the verbatim scripts out loud 3 times. Memorize the openers.
3. Next 7 days: Use the scripts in your first 5 buyer conversations. Track results in Section 4.
4. 30-day check: Audit your sign rate against the baseline. Recalibrate.

SYSTEM 1

THE 5-OBJECTION VERBATIM REBUTTAL STACK

THE $25,000 CONVERSATION KILLER

What This Means For Your Bank Account:

- Every fumbled objection = one lost buyer-side commission. South Florida average: $9K–$25K per deal.
- Sign rates double when scripts are memorized verbatim. "Improvising" loses 60% of skeptical buyers.
- The first-appointment close is the highest-leverage moment in your week. Master it once, profit forever.

THE PSYCHOLOGY BEHIND THE COUNTER-PUNCH

Buyer objections in 2026 aren't logical — they're emotional residue from twenty-one months of confusing settlement headlines. The buyer isn't actually arguing with you. They're arguing with the noise they've absorbed from cable news, TikTok, and their cousin who "knows real estate." Your job isn't to win the argument. Your job is to make them feel safe enough to sign. Verbatim scripts work because they remove your hesitation from the equation — and hesitation is what buyers read as "this person doesn't know what they're doing." Confident words, delivered the same way every time, signal expertise. Expertise signals safety. Safety signals signature.

THE EARLY ADOPTER ADVANTAGE

Most agents are still apologizing for asking buyers to sign. The agents who have memorized verbatim rebuttals are signing 70%+ of first appointments while everyone else fights for 30%. This gap widens every month the script-less agents avoid the practice.

OBJECTION 1

"I'll just call the listing agent."

VERBATIM REBUTTAL

"I get it — on paper it sounds faster. But here's what happens: the listing agent has a signed contract that legally requires them to represent the SELLER. Their job is to get the seller the highest price and best terms — which by definition means the worst price and terms for you. When you call them direct, you're walking into a one-sided negotiation where the other side has a pro and you have nobody. I'm not asking you to pay more — I'm asking you to make sure you don't overpay. Let me show you the form that protects you on just this one property — no long-term commitment, no exclusivity. You sign, I represent you on this house, and you keep your options open. Sound fair?"

OBJECTION 2

"Why am I paying you?"

VERBATIM REBUTTAL

"Fair question — and let me give you the truth: in 90% of my deals, you're not. The compensation comes from the transaction. We negotiate it as part of the offer and structure it so the seller covers it. The settlement changed the disclosure, not the economics. What I'm doing is making the math visible — you see exactly what representation costs and exactly what it gets you. My job is to make sure my fee is the smallest line item on your closing statement compared to what I save you in price, terms, inspection credits, and bad-deal avoidance. You're not paying me to find houses — Zillow does that for free. You're paying me to keep you from making a $50,000 mistake on a $700,000 decision."

OBJECTION 3

"What if I want to see just one home?"

VERBATIM REBUTTAL

"Perfect — that's exactly what this form is for. It's called the Property Pre-Touring Agreement. It's not a long-term contract, it's not exclusive, and it covers just that one property. You're protected, I'm protected, and you owe me nothing unless we move forward together. If you fall in love with the house, we talk next steps. If you don't, we shake hands and you've cost yourself zero dollars and zero commitment. Want me to send it over now so we can get you in there tomorrow?"

OBJECTION 4

"I'm not ready to sign anything."

VERBATIM REBUTTAL

"I respect that — and honestly, most of my best clients said the exact same thing in our first conversation. Here's the truth: a signature isn't a marriage. Florida Realtors designed these forms in tiers — there's a one-property version, a short-term showing version, and a long-term exclusive version. We start with whatever YOU are comfortable with. The signature isn't there to trap you — it's there because the law now requires me to be transparent about what I'm doing for you and how I get paid. Would you rather work with someone who hides that, or someone who puts it in writing on day one?"

OBJECTION 5

"What if I find a home on my own?"

VERBATIM REBUTTAL

"Great — and that happens. Here's how we handle it: the agreement specifies whether properties you find independently are included or excluded. We can carve out an exclusion list — homes you've already toured, FSBOs you've been talking to — so those aren't covered. For everything else, you bring me in before you tour or talk to a listing agent. Why? Because the second you walk into an open house unrepresented, you've handed leverage to the other side. My job is to make sure the moment you find the right house — whether through me, Zillow, or your cousin — you have a professional negotiating for YOU, not against you."

PRACTICE THESE FIVE OUT LOUD. THREE TIMES. TODAY.

SYSTEM 1: YOUR SUCCESS NOTES

AI-ASSISTED REBUTTAL CUSTOMIZATION PROMPTS

Drop these into ChatGPT, Claude, or Gemini after the session to customize each rebuttal for YOUR voice, market, and buyer type.

PROMPT 1 – VOICE CUSTOMIZATION

Rewrite the following buyer-broker objection rebuttal in my voice. I am a [warm/direct/luxury/no-nonsense] South Florida agent who works primarily with [first-time buyers / move-up buyers / luxury / international]. Keep all the legal and structural points intact but adjust the cadence, vocabulary, and openers to sound like ME, not a script. Rebuttal: [PASTE]

PROMPT 2 – MARKET-SPECIFIC TUNING

Adapt the rebuttal below for a buyer shopping in [Boca Raton / Delray / Palm Beach / specific community]. Reference 1-2 local realities (price points, inventory tightness, recent transactions) without naming addresses. Keep under 90 seconds spoken. Rebuttal: [PASTE]

PROMPT 3 – TEXT/EMAIL VERSION

Compress the verbatim rebuttal below into a 3-sentence text message AND a 4-sentence email follow-up version. Keep the core argument and the closing question. Tone: warm, confident, no apology. Rebuttal: [PASTE]

PROMPT 4 – RESISTANCE ANTICIPATION

For the objection "[PASTE OBJECTION]" – list the 3 most likely follow-up objections a buyer might raise AFTER hearing my rebuttal, and write a 2-sentence counter for each. Format as a decision tree.

PROMPT 5 – ROLE-PLAY PARTNER

Act as a skeptical 45-year-old move-up buyer in Boca Raton who has heard mixed things about the NAR settlement. I will deliver verbatim rebuttals. You will push back with realistic follow-up objections until I either close you or fail. Be tough but fair. Begin with the objection: "Why am I paying you?"

WORKSHEET: WHICH OBJECTION HURTS YOU MOST?

Rank the 5 objections by how often YOU freeze on them (1 = paralyzes me, 5 = no problem):

OBJECTION	FREEZE RANK (1-5)	LAST TIME THIS COST ME A DEAL
"I'll just call the listing agent"	_____	_____
"Why am I paying you?"	_____	_____
"What if I want to see one home?"	_____	_____

"I'm not ready to sign anything"

"What if I find a home on my own?"

The first buyer I will use it on:

SYSTEM 2

THE 3-FORM FLORIDA REALTORS DECISION MATRIX

THE "RIGHT PAPER, EVERY TIME" ADVANTAGE

What This Means For Your Bank Account:

- Wrong form = lost buyer. Jumping to exclusivity on a skeptic kills the deal in 30 seconds.
- Right form = signed in 60 seconds. The Pre-Touring form converts 90%+ of "I just want to see one house" calls.
- Form-paralysis is killing agents. The agents who hesitate on which form to send lose to the agents who don't.

WHY FLORIDA REALTORS BUILT THREE FORMS (NOT ONE)

The Florida Realtors forms committee deliberately created a tiered structure because real-world buyers come in tiers. A skeptical first-time buyer who wants to see one house is NOT the same animal as a pre-approved move-up buyer ready for a 90-day exclusive search. Forcing the same form on both kills 50% of your top-of-funnel. The matrix below maps the right paper to the right buyer — so you stop losing deals at the form-selection step.

THE THREE FORMS AT-A-GLANCE

FORM	USE WHEN	DURATION	EXCLUSIVITY
Property Pre-Touring Agreement	Buyer wants to see ONE property; skeptical / first-time / open-house follow-up	Single showing	None
Single Property / Showing Agreement	Buyer is interested in a specific property or 2–3 properties; not ready for full exclusive	Days to weeks; property-specific	Property-only
Exclusive Buyer Brokerage Agreement	Serious, financed buyer ready for full market search	30–180 days typical	Full market

THE "FIRST 90 SECONDS" FRAMEWORK

Before you ever pull out a form, you ask three questions in the first 90 seconds of any buyer conversation:

1. "Are you pre-approved or paying cash?" — Tells you if they're tire-kicker or buyer.
2. "How many homes are you actively considering today?" — Tells you scope (one, few, market-wide).
3. "What's your ideal timeline to be in a home?" — Tells you urgency (under 30 days = exclusive; 30–90 = showing; "just looking" = pre-touring).

These three answers tell you the form. The form tells you the conversation. The conversation tells you the close.

THE 7-BUYER-PROFILE → FORM DECISION MATRIX

Memorize this. When you can spot the buyer profile in under 60 seconds, you'll never pick the wrong form again.

PROFILE	SIGNALS	RIGHT FORM	OPENING LINE
The Skeptic	"I'm just looking." No pre-approval. Found you via open house.	Property Pre-Touring	"Let me send you a one-page form that covers just this house — no commitment."
The One-House Lover	Saw a specific listing. Wants in TODAY.	Property Pre-Touring	"I can get you in tomorrow. I'll send you the form that protects us both for this property."
The Casual Browser	2–3 homes saved. No urgency. Pre-approval pending.	Showing Agreement	"Let's set up a short-term agreement covering these few properties — keeps us flexible."
The Move-Up Buyer	Selling current home. 60–90 day window. Pre-approved.	Exclusive Buyer Brokerage	"Given your timeline, let's do a 90-day exclusive so I can negotiate hard for you."
The Relocator	Out-of-state. 30–60 day move. Cash or pre-approved.	Exclusive Buyer Brokerage	"For a relocation, full representation gets you the advocacy you need from day one."
The Investor	Multiple properties of interest. Cash. Spreadsheet brain.	Exclusive Buyer Brokerage (with carve-outs)	"Full exclusive with an exclusion list for deals you've already sourced. Best of both."
The Luxury Buyer	$2M+. Quiet. Pre-vetted by referral.	Exclusive Buyer Brokerage (concierge tier)	"At this level, exclusive representation is standard — and discretion is the whole point."

COMPENSATION LANGUAGE BY FORM

FORM	COMPENSATION STRUCTURE
Property Pre-Touring	Disclosed for that property only. Seller-paid contingency standard.
Showing Agreement	Defined per property in agreement. Seller-paid contingency, with buyer-paid fallback.
Exclusive Buyer Brokerage	Defined % or flat fee. Seller-paid primary, buyer-paid backup. Negotiated upfront.

PICK THE FORM TO FIT THE BUYER — NEVER FORCE THE BUYER TO FIT THE FORM.

SYSTEM 2: AI PROMPTS & WORKSHEET

FORM-SELECTION POWER PROMPTS

PROMPT 1 – BUYER PROFILE CLASSIFIER

I just had this buyer conversation: [PASTE NOTES]. Based on the 7-Buyer-Profile matrix (Skeptic, One-House Lover, Casual Browser, Move-Up, Relocator, Investor, Luxury), classify this buyer, recommend the correct Florida Realtors form (Property Pre-Touring, Showing Agreement, or Exclusive Buyer Brokerage), and give me the exact opening line to send them within the next hour.

PROMPT 2 – FORM EXPLANATION SCRIPT

Write a 60-second verbal explanation of the [Property Pre-Touring / Showing Agreement / Exclusive Buyer Brokerage] form designed for a [skeptical first-time / serious move-up / luxury] buyer. Use plain English, no legal jargon. End with a question that prompts them to say yes.

PROMPT 3 – EMAIL TEMPLATE BUILDER

Draft an email to a buyer titled "[Buyer's First Name], here's what we discussed." Attach context: [TYPE OF FORM SENT, PROPERTY ADDRESS OR SCOPE]. Tone: confident, warm, no apology. Include a one-sentence "what this form does" line and a clear next step.

PROMPT 4 – UPGRADE PATH SCRIPT

I have a buyer currently on a [Property Pre-Touring / Showing Agreement]. They are showing signs they're ready for a longer engagement: [LIST SIGNS]. Write a 90-second script to transition them to the [Showing Agreement / Exclusive Buyer Brokerage] without making it feel like an upsell.

PROMPT 5 – COMPENSATION CONVERSATION

Write a 60-second verbal script explaining buyer-broker compensation that does NOT apologize, does NOT over-explain, and ends with the buyer agreeing the structure is fair. Audience: [first-time / move-up / luxury / investor].

SYSTEM 3

THE DOUBLE ROLE-PLAY DOMINATION DRILL

WHY REPS BEAT SCRIPTS

What This Means For Your Bank Account:

- Knowing a script ≠ delivering a script. 80% of agents who "know" the rebuttal still fumble it live.
- Two reps under pressure = permanent muscle memory. The neural pattern locks in after the second pass.
- Coached delivery beats memorized recitation. A peer catches your tells; a mirror doesn't.

THE SCIENCE BEHIND TWO REPS

Behavioral research is clear: the second rep of a script — delivered under social pressure with feedback — is what converts knowledge into reflex. The first rep exposes your weak spots (hesitation, filler words, defensive tone). The coaching between reps identifies them. The second rep cements the corrected version into your nervous system. After this session, you will not have "heard" the playbook. You will have RUN it. Twice. That's the difference between agents who close 35% and agents who close 70%.

THE DRILL STRUCTURE (LIVE IN TODAY'S SESSION)

1. Pair up (5 min): You'll be partnered with another member. One plays the buyer, one plays the agent.
2. Round 1 — Full Sequence (12 min): The "buyer" delivers all 5 objections in sequence. The "agent" delivers verbatim rebuttals. No notes after the first 30 seconds.
3. Peer feedback (5 min): Partner names one strength, one tell, one fix.
4. Swap roles (12 min): Other partner now runs the sequence as agent.
5. New partner — Round 2 (15 min): Different partner. Same drill. Apply the fix from Round 1.
6. Group debrief (10 min): 3 members share their biggest "aha." Edmund coaches in real time.

YOUR MINDSET GOING INTO ROUND 1

You will be uncomfortable. That's the point. The discomfort you feel here is 10% of what you'll feel with a real buyer. Burn the awkward today so it doesn't cost you a commission Monday.

IF YOU SPECTATE, YOU LOSE. EVERY MEMBER RUNS THE DRILL — TWICE.
